North Cape Coastal Drive

North Cape Coastal Drive

EXPLORE THE HEART OF PEI'S ACADIAN REGION

Home to the iconic West Point Lighthouse, in the North Cape region you can also experience authentic Acadian music, food, heritage and culture. "Up West", as the locals call it, offers community museums, the work of local artists, artisans and craftspersons, Acadian festivals and events, and a chance to explore the early life of Canadian country and folk music legend Stompin' Tom Connors. North Cape Coastal Drive is also where you'll find Summerside — see Summerside section of the guide — PEI's second largest city, populated with historical properties bearing the Lefurgey and Wyatt names, and where you can catch performances or train in traditional Celtic performing arts among other cultural highlights.

1 - Abram's Village Handcraft Co-op

2181 Cannontown Road, Abram's Village Craft Shop

Let yourself be charmed... Visit our craft shop where everything is "Made in PEI"! We have plenty of beautiful handmade quilts. You will also find a large variety of Island-made crafts such as woodworking, knitted and crocheted items, embroidery, pottery, weaving, photography, handbags, placemats, potholders, Acadian-themed items and more! Whether you are looking for a gift, a souvenir, or you just want to spoil yourself, we will definitely have something for you!

6 - Biddeford Parsonage Museum

784 Biddeford Road, Route 166, Biddeford
Anne, Heritage Building, Museum

Biddeford Parsonage Museum is a hidden gem and must-visit destination for LM Montgomery enthusiasts and history lovers. The historic residence of PEI's most famed author has been carefully restored to accurately reflect life in a rural homestead during the late 19th century. We invite you to gaze through the same window as Montgomery and see island life as she did. Located near the small village of Tyne Valley in Western PEI, the museum may be small and hidden away, but that's always the case with gems. Get off the beaten path and gain a deeper understanding of the place and era that inspired Montgomery's writings.

Pow-Wows

PEI's first people are the Mi'kmaq, with a rich history dating back 10,000 years. Each summer, celebrations open to all are held to showcase the culture of the Island's Indigenous people. Pow wows usually take place in Scotchfort the second weekend in June, in Panmure Island the second weekend in August, and in Lennox Island the third weekend in August. National Indigenous Peoples Day is observed on June 21st, with St. Anne's Sunday typically celebrated on the last Sunday of July in Lennox Island with a parade, pageant, and other festivities.

Central Coastal Drive Green Gables Shore

Central Coastal Drive Green Gables Shore

THE LAND OF ANNE
AND SO MUCH MORE

With historic and natural beauty along the ride, Green Gables Shore is a route for everyone, but for families in particular. Traversing the northern section of PEI's Central Coastal Drive, Green Gables Shore takes travellers along the dune-lined coast to world-famous Cavendish Beach, and through the area that inspired one of Canada's best-loved fictional characters, Anne of Green Gables, and was the home of Lucy Maud Montgomery, her creator. A picturesque drive with its stunning dunes systems, beaches, villages and artisan shops, Green Gables Shore is also an essential route for Anne and beach fans, and anyone looking for sand and sea vistas.

Festival/Event

For over 3 decades, 5x ECMA, multi-award-winning, Richard WOOD, has blown away sold-out audiences around the globe with his natural charisma and traditional-borne, fiery-brand of Celtic music. Highlights include touring w/ The Chieftains, Shania Twain; performing at DisneyWorld, The Kennedy Center, Carnegie Hall, on The David Letterman Show; and for troops in the North Pole, Bosnia, and Afghanistan. Richard WOOD:

An Evening of Celtic Music, in its 14th season, has become a MUST-SEE event for anyone looking for a dose of pure east coast music; bringing repeat, sold-out audiences to exclaim, "...from opening explosion to standing ovation...endeard in our hearts forever!"

Central Coastal Drive Red Sands Shore

YOUR BRIDGE TO THE ARTS & HERITAGE TRAIL

If you're arriving in PEI via the Confederation Bridge, Red Sands is where you'll start your journey on PEI's Arts & Heritage Trail. Named for the red sand and soil that make up its cliffs, tide pool beaches and heritage roads, in the Red Sands region you'll discover arts and crafts, community museums, a well loved little theatre, and a historic site that played an important role in "Mi'kmaq, French, Acadian and British history on the Island."

Anne, Museum

The fact that Lucy Maud Montgomery, the author of Anne of Green Gables, taught in this country school from October 1897 to the spring of 1898 spurred its restoration in 1989 and its relocation to Central Bedeque in 2021 where it is operated as part of the Bedeque Area Historical Museum. Furnished as a nineteenth-century country school, there are displays on the history of schooling in the area, and on Montgomery's life in Bedeque, where she fell in love with a young farmer Herman Leard with whose family she was boarding. On display are mementos connected with Herman.

OPEN 360 DAYS A YEAR!

got soap?®

The (real) story behind The Great Canadian Soap Co.

Our love of all things natural goes back to generations of our family raised on farms. After we welcomed two goats to our homestead in 2000, we began experimenting with making soap from goat milk with our B&B guests as an activity. When that proved immensely popular, we began selling our self-care products, first from a humble garden shed, to today, where we ship our much loved soap to satisfied customers around the world!

Stop in and see for yourself what all the fuss is about.

97 - The Charlottetown Festival

145 Richmond Street, Charlottetown
Anne, Festival/Event, Theatre

The heartbeat of the Charlottetown Festival – the timeless classic, Anne of Green Gables – The Musical™ returns to our stage in 2024. The story of Anne Shirley, the precocious redheaded orphan from away is an essential part of our Island culture and heritage. Our second musical brings the riveting tale of global sensation Frankie Valli and The Four Seasons to the stage in the first Atlantic Canadian production of Jersey Boys. The pulse of the '60s would have been incomplete without their tunes, including Can't Take My Eyes Off You, Sherry, Big Girls Don't Cry and Walk Like A Man. Joining these two productions is the cabaret show Becoming Dolly. The Charlottetown Festival is the largest theatre festival in Atlantic Canada full of music, laughter, and entertainment for all ages. Don't miss this must-see summer lineup!

129 - Greenwich Interpretation Centre

59 Wild Rose Road, Greenwich

Interpretive Centre, Museum

Greenwich, the easternmost section of Prince Edward Island National Park, offers a blend of natural and cultural heritage. Home to a rare parabolic dune system and the highest sand dunes in the province, Greenwich has ties to thousands of years of human history. Archaeologists have uncovered traces of major cultures that existed on Prince Edward Island over the past 10,000 years, including early Mi'kmaq communities, French and Acadian settlers, and Scottish, Irish, and English immigrants. The Visitor Centre houses exhibits exploring these themes and is currently hosting an exciting exhibit featuring life-sized models of important aquatic species at risk.

Seasonal: June-Sept.

See website for updated dates and hours.

Admission fees apply. Youth 17 years and under admitted free.

145 - Sir Andrew Macphail Homestead

271 Macphail Park Road, Orwell

Heritage Building, Museum

Sir Andrew Macphail called the Island home, but his life embraced the world. A teacher before training as a doctor in Montreal and becoming the first Professor of the History of Medicine at McGill University. He founded a literary magazine, made friends with Stephen Leacock, Rudyard Kipling and a young John McCrae (In Flanders Fields). Blind in one eye, Macphail argued his way onto the battlefields of France and was knighted for his services to his country.

Visit his beautifully restored Island home, where Lucy Maud Montgomery came to dinner, attend fascinating lectures about his life and times, and wander the trails and gardens on the 140-acre property.
